

Afternoon task / Odpolední úkol

Hi,

So first go outside, then take 1 photo, it could be whatever and then write a short story about that photo. Download the photo from your phone into the computer and add it to your writing.

That's all, it could be easy and for sure I hope funny too.

I'm looking forward to your stories *

It could be fantasy or fiction, it's up to you and be creative to make it funny, if you like...

Yesterday I went for a walk around Prague and stopped at a shop for a small purchase. I was not pleasantly surprised by the large queue that was at the store. But in the end I endured it and bought everything I needed.

This picture was taken out of a window in my room. It depicts the roof of a building next to the building I live in and many more buildings in the background. This view really isn't anything special, but the views from the other windows aren't much better. The roof in the picture is a roof of the local Albert supermarket.

Well I know this is bending the rules a bit of the assignment, but this short story is relevant to our small garden our house has.

Well a small interesting thing happened in our garden that some tulips and violets started to grow in our garden recently.

The strange thing is that whenever we tried to grow some flowers in our garden they never did too well (they didn't look that good or dried up)

So essentially the garden has done better so far by itself unattended than us trying to plant things there.

„Great job Jakub, nevermind that a bit late neither that rules of the task. You did a really good job, thank You.

and true, nature is strong, itself, we people are far more destroying the environment...“

In this picture is a patisserie, located in the next village. When I was younger, I went to this village with my grandmother and grandfather. We visited my grandmother's brother. When we went back. And when it was warm, we almost always bought ice cream in this patisserie. They have both types of ice cream (scoop ice cream, spiral ice cream). Both ice creams were always great. When the weather is nice, I will definitely go for one of them.

Here is a Mazda mx-5, or Mazda Miata. I found it near Malostranské náměstí when I was walking yesterday. I'm a car lover, even a "petrol head". I know lots of things about this car and that's why I decided to take a picture of it. It's a very well-known car, especially in USA ("Miata" was a name for USA, in Europe it was named like "mx-5"). It was a roadster (or cabrio), it was small and cheap. That's why people loved it. It's a Japanese car aimed at USA market. It had a great success there, and can be found even in Europe, as we can see. This is a first generation from 1991, so this one is really old. I had a big luck seeing it in my own eyes.

It tells the story that there are secret paths in the rocks where a secret figure hid. As they searched the galleries, they found a well full of blood and his name written on it. Since then, it has been said that the shadow of an unknown person appears in the quarry at night. The place is very nice during the day, but I wouldn't want to see it at night. The roads around the quarry are narrow and quite treacherous, and when you walk around you can see the roads to the galleries on the other side.

Right here I found my dog. It was a puppy that someone had strapped to a pole next to the subway entrance. It was cold that day and a cold wind was blowing, so the puppy was shaking. Fortunately, I had a spare sweatshirt, which I wrapped and held in my arms.

At first I waited for someone to come for him, but when no one came, I said to myself that I couldn't leave him there and I took him home.

I don't understand how anyone can be so mean and do it. But I'm happy because this day was special for me and I'm glad I found it, because I don't know what I would do without it.
